ARTO's Story

ARTO makes their ceramic and concrete products the traditional way with skilled human hands, local materials, and hard work. In today's world where everything is automated and products all look the same or are printed out to trick your eye, ARTO makes truly unique handcrafted products. ARTO's products attract customers who are indeed unique themselves and want that represented in the items they use to make their spaces distinctively their own.

Capturing the depth of life in a product takes years of experience, creativity, hard work, and sweat. All this was embodied in ARTO's founder, Arto Alajian. Where did Arto Alajian get his experience, taste, creativity, and work ethic? For Arto it came from his unique life experiences and was stimulated by adversity. Arto's father was born in Armenia and was a child refugee of the Armenian Genocide. Born in Alexandria, Egypt, Arto Alajian was classically trained in the arts and was exposed to the ancient art and architecture of Egypt and the Middle East. In Egypt, he learned the art of designing and making handcrafted leather shoes in his father's shoe factory. When the revolution came to Egypt, he fled to Beirut where he worked for British Airways. When turmoil began in Beirut, he set his eyes on North America. In 1962, Arto traveled through America visiting New York, Boston, Houston, and Vancouver, finally making his home in Venice, California. To support himself he took a job as a milkman at Adohr Farms. As a way to make additional income he made lightweight old world looking clay thin brick veneers and sold them to the customers on his milk route. The thin brick became so popular he quit his job and started ARTO Brick in 1966.

Over the years his many products have been used throughout the world in large commercial projects, restaurants, retail stores, hotels, resorts, mansions, and in the homes of movie and TV stars and regular hard working people like Arto. In 2014, after living his American dream, Arto Alajian passed away; but not before passing ARTO Brick on to his sons. His sons, Armen and Vod continue to keep their father's legacy alive by offering customers handcrafted ceramic and rustically elegant concrete products still made in their father's Southern California factory. Color Shade Variation Guide | Color variation is inherent when using natural ingredients and handcrafted designs.

V1		Uniform Appearance: Differences among pieces from the same production run are minimal. Each piece has the same texture, color share, and pattern with minimal and insignificant variation from tile to tile.
V2		Slight Variation: Clearly distinguishable differences in texture and/or pattern within similar colors. While the texture, color, and shade may “move around” somewhat from tile to tile, the general appearance from tile to tile is quite similar.
V3		Moderate Variation: While the colors present on a single piece of tile will be indicative of the colors to be expected on the other tiles, the amount of color on each piece may vary significantly. The texture color, and shade may change considerably from tile to tile. All the colors present on a single tile will be present to some degree in all of the tiles.
V4		Random Variation: Random color differences from tile to tile; one tile may have different colors from that on other tiles, thus the final installation will be unique. Random color differences from tile to tile; one tile may have totally different colors from that on the other tiles. These tiles cannot be selected by the customer from just one or two pieces.

CSI Specifications and Test Data For Concrete

Test	Quality
C39	Compressive strength is the best way to measure and compare strength of installed concrete, ceramic, and natural stone products. Heavy traffic vehicles
C78/C293	Flexural strength measures resistance to bending loads for pedestal applications and for durability during shipping and handling.
C140	Absorption values are important to determine expected performance, appropriate applications, plus sealing and maintenance requirements.
C140	Density is used to calculate weight to ensure products are suitable for adhered veneer applications and over elevated sub floors.
C157	This test ensures that the concrete is dimensionally stable and products are ready for immediate installation.
C1645	Testing demonstrates ARTO concrete will not deteriorate when exposed to freezing and thawing cycles that would damage most other materials.

Color Shade Variation Guide | Color variation is inherent when using natural ingredients and handcrafted designs.

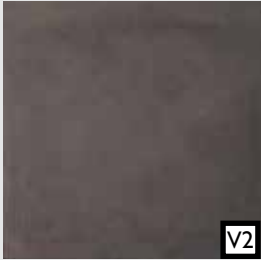

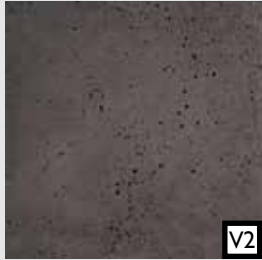

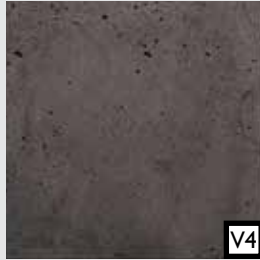

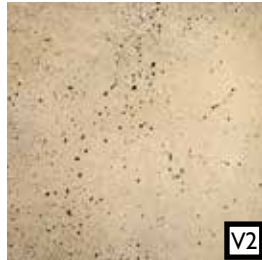

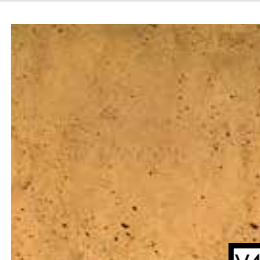

V1		Uniform Appearance: Differences among pieces from the same production run are minimal. Each piece has the same texture, color share, and pattern with minimal and insignificant variation from tile to tile.
V2		Slight Variation: Clearly distinguishable differences in texture and/or pattern within similar colors. While the texture, color, and shade may “move around” somewhat from tile to tile, the general appearance from tile to tile is quite similar.
V3		Moderate Variation: While the colors present on a single piece of tile will be indicative of the colors to be expected on the other tiles, the amount of color on each piece may vary significantly. The texture color, and shade may change considerably from tile to tile. All the colors present on a single tile will be present to some degree in all of the tiles.
V4		Random Variation: Random color differences from tile to tile; one tile may have different colors from that on other tiles, thus the final installation will be unique. Random color differences from tile to tile; one tile may have totally different colors from that on the other tiles. These tiles cannot be selected by the customer from just one or two pieces.

ARTO Concrete Textures

Standard

The Standard (or smooth) texture varies from item to item and does not need to be specified. It is shown here only as a point of comparison.

Limestone

The Limestone surface texture features an organic, weathered appearance, generally lightens the original color and is a great option for pools and where extra slip resistance is desired.

Travertine

Selecting the Travertine surface texture adds a rustic, pitted surface to any ARTO color that can be used to complement other materials or create your own distinctive appearance.

Luna

Our most distressed surface texture, Luna is inspired by the craters, seas, valleys and other topographical features of the lunar surface for the ultimate expression of rustic elegance.

Vintage

Is a blend of Limestone, Luna, Standard, and Travertine textures to create a rustically distinct appearance from distressed terra cotta to natural stone. Order any color in Vintage to get a combination of pieces made in all four surface textures.

ARTO Signature Blended Colorways

ARTO offers pre-blended color combinations called “Colorways”. Different colored tiles are sorted and packaged together for quicker installation. Some colorways also include a variety of textures selected by ARTO. Colorways are available in most of ARTO’s concrete shapes and patterns. Custom colorways can be created by ordering different colors and then sorting the colors into patterns wanted at the job site. ARTO can pre-sort custom colorways and package them together at the signature pricing level. Call ARTO for pricing.

Overglaze – Overglaze should be used on both Premium and Signature glazed tiles being used in pools, fountains, and other applications where the tiles are continually submerged in water. Overglaze will make tiles glossy and will affect the glaze’s final color. Overglaze can be affected by out of balance acidic or alkaline water.

Applications include interior, exterior, walls, and floors. Roman series offers a complete line of pool and step coping. Accessories will vary from field tile. Roman concrete colors generally look lighter than Artillo concrete colors. Each size and shape is handcrafted and will vary in thickness and size.

Concrete Tiles – ARTO defines Tile as a product made with a thickness of 1/2” to 1”. Tiles should always be applied to interior and exterior floors and walls with mortar.

Concrete Pavers – ARTO defines Pavers as a product made with a thickness of 2” or greater. They can be mortared or sand set. Ensure all substrates are properly designed and prepared for specified application. Sizes larger than 12 x 12 are not recommended for sand set driveway applications. See California Paver products at the bottom of page 34.

Concrete Color – The color used in every ARTO concrete product is pure inorganic iron oxide pigment which is made in a process of oxidizing metal, creating a metal pigment powder. Concrete does change with time and weather exposure. Uncolored concrete turns yellow, erodes and darkens as it accumulates dirt, dust, and grime from the environment.

Concrete Textures – ARTO offers four different concrete textures and one texture blend. Standard, Travertine, Limestone, Luna and Vintage Blend of all four textures. See page 49 for more information.

Storage – Upon receiving your order of concrete tiles and pavers, the clear plastic wrapping needs to be removed and all boxes opened to allow any moisture to evaporate from the tiles. Tiles then need to be stored in a cool and dry area to prevent watermarks and permanent damage.

Sealer – ARTO recommends sealer to protect concrete products during installation and is a big part of creating the correct expectation of the tile. Which sealer to use needs to be part of the discussion as you decide what color tile to select and its application. There are two basic types of sealers: topical and penetrating. Sealer can change the color and sheen so make sure to test first to ensure finished look is as desired. Test sealer on loose pieces, a mock-up, or a small, unobtrusive area.
